Debra Parrish named Executive Director of EIM International

New York, NY, March 30, 2007 – EIM International announced today that Debra Parrish has been named Executive Director, effective immediately. Prior to this appointment, Ms. Parrish most recently held the position of Director of Business Development, and has been integral to the company's success over her eight-year tenure with EIM International.

"Debra's ability to connect our company to our customers and channel partners is an invaluable asset," said Peter Lieber, Vice President. "She has a rare combination of business savvy and market intuition that, when joined with her ability to build lasting working relationships, makes Debra the ideal choice for this position."

In addition to her current sales management responsibilities, Ms. Parrish will join the company leadership in helping to focus strategic direction, ensuring that EIM continues to position itself as a market leader in the enterprise information management field both in the U.S. and abroad.

Ms. Parrish accepted the position, stating that "it is tremendously gratifying to be able to align a well-respected company such as EIM with innovative clients who are embracing technology change every day."
